Administration of the TC WEB page: Prof. Gwo Giun Lee

3. Recruitment of new TC members

- We decided to welcome Prof. Shang-Ho Tsai to our SPS TC. His membership starts from Jan. 1st, 2013.

- We asked Prof. Takao Nishitani, a current mentor, to remain as a member.

- We will continue recruitment of new TC members especially from Thailand where ASC 2014 will be held. We will also try to recruit someone from industries.

- We asked attendees to nominate some new TC members via e-mail. The organizing members will make contact with them. If there are some appropriate candidates who agree to join, we will elect them via e-mail.

4. ASC 2013 special session

- We try to propose two special sessions for ASC 2013. Tentative scope is “media processing systems” and “communication processing systems”.

- We asked Prof. Gwo Giun Lee and Prof. Shang-Ho Tsai to list up possible candidates in the media and communication processing systems, respectively.

5. Collaboration with ASC committee

- The number of submission for the SPS field is a little few. We encourage to correct more papers for ASC2013 held in Taiwan. We will ask every member to submit something from their laboratories. We also try to correct not only LSI and hardware related papers but also system oriented algorithm and design methodology papers including GPGPU.
- We will ask every TC members to join TPC of ASC2013 and ask a paper review or something.
- We asked CFP, a paper submission and a special section proposal for APSIPA transaction.
- We discussed the following activation plans for APSIPA and SPS TC
  - Best paper award from each TC. (TC is responsible for its selection.)
  - Joint activities with other TCs
  - Promotion of distinguish lecturer activities
  - Promotion of association among members. (We plan to have a special lectures.)

6. Others

- We discussed the possible collaboration (e.g. contribution to the paper review and CFP) with IEEE SiPS which is very close to our research fields among IEEE conferences. SiPS 2013 will be held from Oct. 16 to 18 in Taipei. Prof. Prof. Gwo Giun Lee belongs to the organizing committee.
